ARMISTICE DECLARED

HOSTILITIES WILL NOW CEASE.

The Armistice Will Be Effective Until the Peace Negotiations Are Completed—The Attempted Assassination of Li Hung Chang Brought About the Unexpected Event—Tai-Wan Bombarded.

TOKIO, March 30.—The emperor of Japan has declared unconditional armistice. China made the offer of the armistice and the peace plenipotentiary of Japan was empowered by the emperor to accept it without condition. This was done in view of the "unexpected event" that happened, viz: The attempted assassination of Li Hung Chang.

The armistice, it is said, will be effective until the peace negotiations are concluded. After a meeting of the peace ambassadors had been decided on, China requested the declaration of an armistice, but this request had not been acted upon favorably by Japan. His government had not been inclined to stop warlike operations except on certain conditions.

These conditions are not known, but it is suggested that probably the occupation of Taku might have been one, Japan wishing something as a guarantee of the willingness and earnestness of the Chinese for an amicable settlement of the war. China evidently could not arrive at a conclusion to agree to the stipulations demanded by Japan and the attempt of the life of the Chinese peace ambassador solved the problem for the time being and hostilities will be suspended. There will be no withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Chinese territory, however.

Comments of the London Times.

LONDON, March 30.—The Times this morning editorially says: "Official news of the declaration of an armistice by the Emperor of Japan has also been received in London. It will be hailed everywhere with general satisfaction. The more prudent Japanese statesmen have probably become convinced that the occupation of Peking would entail momentous consequences with which they are not prepared to deal. The idea that the mikado's action was the result of a generous impulse connected with Li Hung Chang can hardly be accepted as probable. It can not be hastily assumed that the war will end until Japan's demands are heard."

Why It Was Declared.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—Advices received here from Tokyo says that the decision of the Emperor of Japan to declare an unconditional armistice, was greatly due to the extreme indignation aroused by the attack on Viceroy Li Hung Chang.

THE NEWS REACHES WASHINGTON.

It Was Welcomed at the Chinese Legation but Officials Were Silent.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The declaration of an armistice was most welcome news to the Chinese legation, although it was accepted with the stolidity and passive dignity, which is characteristic of the race. The first word of the armistice reached the legation through the Associated Press. Mr. Yang Yu had received no official communication from China, nor from the state department. Under these circumstances, he asked to be excused from discussing the situation.

The numerous suite of the legation, comprising many secretaries, attaches and translators, were evidently glad that the tedious and discouraging struggle was at an end. They discussed its effects upon their countrymen at home. There was some doubt as to the meaning of the term "unconditional" armistice, although this was accepted as meaning that recent events, including probably the shooting of Prince Li, had induced the envoys to agree to an armistice before agreeing exactly on the terms of peace. It is felt the arrangement of these terms will still be a difficult task.

The feeling in the interior of China, where the effects of the war have not been felt, is very strong against a cessation of territory. Moreover, the payment of a cash indemnity will necessitate the imposition of heavy taxes on the people, and consequent depression. These considerations, together with the direct losses and ravages of war, make the commercial revival of China so problematic that the officials would not discuss it, beyond mentioning the difficulties in the way of restoration of commerce and internal prosperity.

Japanese Bombarding Tai-Wan.

HONG-KONG, March 30.—The Japanese are bombarding Tai-Wan, the capital town of Formosa.

Killed by a Train.

KANSAS CITY, March 30.—Gilbert Riddle, a stockman of Fort Worth, Tex., was run over and killed by a Rock Island train near Swift's packing-house yesterday. Riddle, who is 48 years of age, was in charge of a load of stock consigned to the stockyards. He was internally injured and both of his legs were crushed.

Died of Morphine Poisoning.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Edith May King, 22 years old, who was said to have been an actress, died from morphine poisoning yesterday at her boarding-house in West Twenty-fourth street. It is not known whether the dose was taken with suicidal intent or whether an overdose was taken accidentally.

WILL ASK FOR AN EXPLANATION.

An Investigation Being Made Into the Consul Waller Case.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Although it is said at the White House that the telegram from Governor Morrill urging the president to extend protection to United States Consul Waller, a citizen of Kansas, reported to be imprisoned at Madagascar by order of a French court martial, has not yet been received, the president after a consultation with his cabinet has decided to act in the matter and to call for a report of all the circumstances.

If the facts are as originally reported in the cablegram from Mauritius, and on this point United States Consul Campbell, at St. Louis, will be looked to for a report, then it is expected that Mr. Eustis, our ambassador to France, will be instructed to lay the matter before the French foreign office and ask for an explanation of the course pursued by the officials in Madagascar.

Carl Bardsley Found.

ELKHART, Ind., March 30.—Senator Charles Bardsley's son, Carl, whose mysterious disappearance from the Michigan university last fall created such interest, has been heard from. His mother received a letter from him yesterday, written at San Francisco, in which he says he is doing well there and will never return here. He says he left the university because he was disheartened over his studies. Detectives had scoured the country for him, but no trace of him could be found, and he was supposed to have committed suicide or to have wandered away while demented.

Sawmill Boiler Explodes.

DEXTER, Mo., March 30.—The boiler of Rich Williams' sawmill in Dunkin county blew up yesterday afternoon, killing John Wayne, the fireman, and slightly injuring Lige Warner, William Snipes, John Foley, John Gowan and Charles Warner, all helpers at the mill. The machinery was literally torn to pieces, a section of the boiler six feet long being blown through the two walls of a ginhouse near by and into a field 75 yards away. Fragments of the engine room and pieces of machinery were thrown 200 yards from the mill.

Held Up and Robbed.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 30.—A Philadelphia lumber dealer named Landin, was decoyed to a point in Connelville township last night and held up by two highwaymen and robbed of $1,100 in cash, a gold watch and a diamond pin. Landin arrived at Indian Creek yesterday afternoon, having business at a camp near there. He started to drive to Stuart and on the way met two strangers, who at the point of a revolver, robbed him. It is believed that the robbers were lumbermen who learned of Landin's coming.

His Dead Body Found.

KILBOURNE CITY, Wis., March 30.—The body of John Werner was found in the edge of the woods two miles from here yesterday. His gun lay beside him, and the top of his head was blown off. He had been missing for 18 days, and he doubtless shot himself the first day, as he said when leaving home he would do it. Werner was under indictment at Baraboo for incest and disappeared the day before his trial was to come off.

Tons of Dead Fish.

CELINA, O., March 30.—It is estimated that there are 100 tons of dead fish lying around on the banks of the reservoir. State Warden Buntain is here compelling the authorities to dispose of the fish. George Hoagland of this city is buying the dead fish and intends making fish oil out of them.

Not Foul Play.

GENEVA, O., March 30.—The remains of W. H. Sexton, who suicided in the bay at Erie, were brought here for interment. He had been missing for a number of months. A valuable gold watch and $183 in money were found on his person. Fears of foul play are now set at rest.

Dropped Dead in a Park.

COLUMBUS, O., March 30.—William Vorys, ex-mayor of Lancaster, O., dropped dead of heart disease in Goodale park yesterday. He met with political and financial reverses 10 years ago, and has been living here since.

Died of Heart Failure.

WABASH, Ind., March 30.—James Lynn, 67, one of the oldest residents of Wabash county, died yesterday at his home, four miles south of Wabash, of heart failure, superinduced by lagrippe.

Lost His Hand.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., March 30.—David Paul lost a hand by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge. He was picking it with a pin in order to remove some obstruction so the cartridge could be used.

Factory Fire.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 30.—Fire in the sawmill and factory district caused a loss of from $40,000 to $50,000 yesterday afternoon. The Helfrich Company loses 2,000,000 feet of lumber.

The Ex-President.

RICHMOND, Ind., March 30.—Ex-President Harrison has resumed his place at the attorney's table in the Morrison will case. He has entirely recovered from his attack of acute bronchitis.

Glass Works to Resume.

ELWOOD, Ind., March 30.—The sheriff's levy on the Depauw window-glass factory has been released and the receiver is again in control and work will be resumed.

Death of an Ex-Congressman.

LEBANON, Ind., March 30.—Ex-Congressman John S. Peters of Indiana is dead; heart disease.

IMPROVEMENT SIGNS.

More Business Being Transacted Than Last Week.

R. G. DUN'S WEEKLY REPORT

NEW YORK, March 30.—R. G. Dun's weekly review of trade says: Signs of improvement are all the more satisfactory because neither accompanied or apparently produced by a speculative craze. Dealings in stocks, cotton and wheat are not diverting all the interest and capital from productive industry and legitimate trade, though these products are all a shade stronger. But railroad earnings, bank clearings and industrial indications are more encouraging this week.

It is a remarkable feature that the lifting this year begins at the bottom, so to speak; raw materials are raised before there is any larger demand for their finished products, a thing not often done with success. Hides rose, then leather, and then shoes; cotton rose, and afterward some cotton goods, coke was advanced, and afterward Bessemer pig. In all these cases it is reasoned that the larger demand for consumption, though yet wanting, must come when it is seen that prices are going up.

Higher wages for coke workers have been followed by a formal advance of 40 cents in the price of coke, and now Bessemer pig has risen 35 cents at Pittsburgh and 40 at Philadelphia. So far there is no answering increase in demand or in prices for manufactured products and on the whole the range is slightly lower than a week ago, angles and common bars having yielded a little. The general belief is that dear materials will kindle more buying of products. It is a sign of strength that an eastern mill has secured in competition with British makers who had an advantage of $2.50 in freights, the contract for 12,000 tons of rails for a California road and of 30 contracts for about the same quantity have been placed.

Raw cotton has been hoisted until a stronger market for goods resulted with some advances in prices. The tone of the dry goods market has been decidedly improved, though it does not yet appear that rail distribution has correspondingly increased. But stocks of retail dealers are light, and when they feel that prices are bound to rise, the demand may grow rapidly.

In the woolen business cancellations in some lines have been startling in magnitude, many mills which supposed their product sold finding themselves in great need of customers. This seems to be mainly in low grade goods, inferior quality being the common complaint, but delays through strikes also play a part, while offers of cheap foreign goods are not to be overlooked. Quite large orders have been taken by foreign agents for fine worsted and woolsens, and all the way from the poorest shoddy to the best goods the competition will doubtless be sharp for more than one season. Sales of wool for the week have been quite large, 5,829,800 pounds against 4,078,200 last year, partly because a quantity held for a loan was forced to sale. But sales in four weeks have been 19,546,200 pounds, against 17,919,000 last year and 21,133,400 in 1892.

Cotton speculation reached a halt with the enormous realizing of last week and sales have been a third smaller with no advance. The season is really late and there are solid reasons for reducing acreage, factors and traders being able to exert a powerful influence if they choose. But the supply of cotton now in sight or in spinners' hands is over 2,300,000 bales, more than the world's requirements for this year, with receipts for four months yet to come.

Guesses about the condition of wheat have varied widely this week and prices have not varied much, the net advance being 1-4 cents. Atlantic exports, flour included, have been 1,391,091 bushels against 1,446,613 last year, and for the month 6,511,708 bushels against 8,190,784 last year, and meanwhile western receipts for the month have been 7,473,361 bushels against 7,084,513 last year.

Corn is 1 cent lower, while pork is 75 cents per barrel, and lard and hogs 15 cents per 100 pounds higher.

The failures this week have been 234 in the United States, against 236 last year, and 42 in Canada, against 30 last year. But the recent increase indicates past rather than recent conditions of unsoundness.

Schooner Given Up For Lost.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 30.—The schooner Samuel V. Colby, which sailed from Fortune Bay, N. F., on Feb. 3 with a cargo of herring, and of which no tidings have been received since, has been given up for lost by her owners, D. B. Smith & Company. The Colby was built in 1885. She was commanded by John Vibbert, and carried a crew of six men. It is believed that all on board were lost. The Colby was valued at $9,000, and was insured for $6,500.

Contest Declared Off.

CLEVELAND, March 30.—The contest between Jimmy Dime and Kid Lavigne, which was arranged to come off at the Cleveland Athletic clubhouse on April 5, has been declared off for the present because Dime's backer says that his man can not get into good enough shape by April 5 to meet Lavigne. If Dime gets in condition by the 20th of April it may be decided to have the match take place on that date.

HOT WEATHER.

All Previous Records Broken Throughout the Northwest

KANSAS CITY, March 30.—The mercury climbed up to the 86 degree mark yesterday, breaking all previous records in this city so far as the United States signal office is concerned. The hot wave covered part of Nebraska and Iowa, the whole of Kansas and western Missouri.

The hottest place in the country yesterday was Wichita, Kan., with the thermometer at 90. Des Moines came next with 88, and then Concordia, Kan., and Kansas City followed with 86. Local showers are predicted for this section, and eastern Missouri will suffer with the heat.

Fears For the Crops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 30.—The government thermometer registered a maximum of 84 degrees today. This is unprecedented for March. In the country the ground is so dry that dust is drifted along fences like snow. Failure of crops in central Illinois is feared if rain is delayed long.

Hot in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Yesterday was the warmest March day known in the last 24 years. The mercury showed 80 degrees at 2 p. m., and the heat was aggravated by a high wind from the south which drove blinding clouds of dust before it.

Forty Degrees in Six Hours.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 30.—A hot wave struck this vicinity yesterday. At 7 a. m., the thermometer at the signal office marked 44 degrees, and at 2 p. m., it marked 82, a rise of nearly 40 degrees in six hours.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Certificate Forgers Safely Landed—Five in the Gang.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—After many delays the internal revenue department has finally succeeded in landing one of the biggest gang of counterfeiters that have operated in California since the days of the Boyd-Ciprico gang. The combination sold the red certificates issued to Chinese by the custom house in China and reaped a fortune.

Boyd ran away to Australia, came back and turned state's evidence against Ciprico and afterward shot himself. Ciprico was acquitted. Kip never came to trial and Whalley fled the country. Another of the gang died before his case was called.

There were five conspirators in the Boyd-Ciprico gang and there are five in the one just landed. Like its predecessor it also dealt in fraudulent Chinese certificates. The names of the men arrested are H. L. Foss, freight clerk on the Oceanic Steamship company's dock; James H. Sullivan, formerly a deputy county clerk; Max Katzaura, a new arrival from Victoria, and said to be a leading smuggler of Puget sound; Fernando Ciprico, the man who was tried and acquitted for complicity in the Boyd-Ciprico ring, and M. Grenwald, brother of Louis Greenwald, the man now serving a term in San Quentin for being mixed up in the operations of the Emerald smuggling ring. They are all charged with conspiracy in attempting to land Chinese in the United States by means of forged certificates.

Widow Shot by Her Lover.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 30.—James McBride, a quarryman, yesterday murdered Mrs. David Rockford, a widow, to whom he had been paying attention. McBride went to her home and after a few words shot two bullets into her forehead, killing her instantly. McBride went to his boarding place, told the landlady what he had done and said he was going to kill himself. He has not since been seen.

Found the Miser's Money.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., March 30.—The heirs of Solomon Diehl, an old bachelor of miserly habits, searched his late residence yesterday and found over $4,000 in gold, silver and copper coins. The money was tied up in old stockings and hidden away under floors and in crevices and cracks about the building. Diehl died a week ago. The money is now in bank awaiting the division among the heirs.

Threats of a Lynching.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 30.—Sheriff Allen has received word that threats of lynching Noah Strevil are being made in the neighborhood where his father, Stewart Strevil, was murdered, and extra guards have been placed about the jail to be continued indefinitely. The prisoner will not say what he thinks of his wife's confession, but asserts that he can prove his innocence.

Low Water—Two Dead.

CATTARAUGUS, N. Y., March 30.—Word has been received here that the boiler of the steam sawmill owned by David Ingersoll, at East Leon, a small town about four miles from this place, exploded yesterday, instantly killing David Ingersoll and his uncle, Denzil Ingersoll, and seriously injuring Devill Hunt. Low water in the boiler was the cause of the explosion.

President and Cabinet Photographed.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—At the cabinet meeting yesterday a photograph was taken of the president and members of the cabinet. After the meeting the cabinet members, with the exception of Secretary Carlisle, walked from the White House to the residence of Secretary Herbert, a few blocks away, where a luncheon was served by the Southern society.

ELWOOD, Ind., March 30.—Zeno Massard, on trial for the murder of Mordeckai Lane, was found not guilty Friday by a jury which remained out all night. Massard was accused of murdering Lane in a saloon.

MORE COMPLICATIONS

Our Trouble With Hawaii Is Increasing.

IT MAY BECOME SERIOUS.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—There are indications that Mr. Willis, our minister to Hawaii, is preparing to take a leave of absence from his post. One theory is that he will go to Japan for a time, and another is that he will return to the United States.

The state department officials will not say anything about the matter, but content themselves with pointing to the fact that the minister has now been at his post for more than a year and according to the usual practice of the department, is entitled to a leave of absence if he desires it, and the conditions in the country to which he is accredited admits of his leaving. It would not be surprising, therefore, if the minister was found to be a passenger on the United States steamship Philadelphia when she returns to Mare island, as she must do shortly to be cleaned and docked, if, indeed, he does not turn up before that time.

During his absence the United States legation at Honolulu will be left in charge of Mr. Ellis Mills, the secretary of the legation, which will exactly correspond in official status with that of the Hawaiian legation at Washington. In this case the conditions will be precisely parallel to those in Rome and Washington at the time of the Italian trouble four years ago when Baron Fava left Washington for Italy, and United States Minister Porter spent 19 months roaming through Switzerland and other European countries, on leave under full pay, leaving the legation in Rome in the hands of Charge Whitehouse, and the Italian legation in Washington in care of the Marquis Rudini.

Minister Thurston in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 30.—Minister Thurston, formerly minister of the Hawaiian Islands at Washington, arrived in Chicago yesterday afternoon from the east, on his way to Honolulu. Mr. Thurston declined positively to make any statement whatever, regarding the recent unpleasantness in Washington. He said that he would leave for San Francisco and would proceed directly to Honolulu. He has no idea, he said, who will be appointed his successor.

Regarding the reported settlement of the Chinese-Japanese war, Mr. Thurston said that he had no idea it would have any effect whatever on the situation in Hawaii.

Regarding his own government and its possible action in view of his trouble with the United States officials, he refused to talk.

He was met by Consul General Job of Hawaii, and remained with Mr. Job during his brief stay here. He sails from San Francisco on April 4.

REVEALED BY DEATH.

LAPORTE, Ind., March 30.—A sensation has been caused at Westville by the announcement of the recent secret marriage of Miss Sadie Brooks and A. E. Reynolds. Until Thursday, when Miss Brooks stood at the grave of her husband wearing widow's weeds, the fact of her being a bride was unknown to the villagers, and her appearance as a mourner was the dramatic sequel of weeks of wedded life of which the friends of the couple were in blissful ignorance.

Reynolds died very suddenly last Monday, and Wednesday his remains were laid to rest. It has now developed that Reynolds, who was an engineer in the employ of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company, was married to Miss Brooks with the understanding that they were to live at their respective homes until Mr. Reynolds recovered his health, or his death severed their marriage vows.

Searched the Well.

GLENWOOD, Ind., March 30.—A second letter has been received by Ed Gardner saying that he would find the remains of Stuart Gardner in a well 3 1-2 miles northwest of Rushville. Ed and some friends went to the well and searched it thoroughly, but did not find the body. Stuart is still missing, and the general opinion is that he met with foul play and will never be heard from.

A Farmer's Heavy Loss.

WAPAKONETA, O., March 30.—Fire yesterday consumed George Woerling's residence, barn, granaries and most of his stock. The fire started from a defective flue. Woerling resides five miles southeast of here. The family barely escaped with their lives. Loss, about $5,000; no insurance.

A Would-Be Assassin.

HOLTON, Ind., March 30.—An attempt was made to assassinate William Kelly, near Versailles. Some unknown fired several shots through the bedroom window, where Kelly and his wife were sleeping. Shortly afterward the granary was discovered on fire, which burned to the ground.

Stabbed Him.

CANNELTON, Ind., March 30.—Henry Dixon stabbed Louis Boyer, killing him in 10 minutes. Dixon was drinking. No cause is given for the killing. Boyer was about 27 years old and a stranger here. Dixon is at large.

TOWN AND CITIES.

Their Right to Grade and Improve Streets—Decision of the Court of Appeals.

In affirming the case of Shultz against the town of West Covington, the Court of Appeals says:

The owners of city lots hold them subject to the right of the city to improve its streets in a proper and reasonable manner; and the lot-owners have no remedy, although there may be a diminution in value of the lots by reason of the improvement. But when the improvement results in a direct injury to the lots as by causing water to flow upon them in such a manner as to injure the value, or by throwing dirt upon the premises against the consent of the owner, in all such cases an action for the injury will be allowed if the city authorities direct the execution of the work in the manner causing the injury.

In this case the owner of a lot having, under a mistake as to the grading of the street, constructed her house below the grade, it was the duty of the town in subsequently grading and improving the street, under an ordinance providing for the improvement, to erect barriers to prevent the dirt from falling upon the lot, and the town having failed to do this and the dirt having been thrown upon the lot, to the depth of five or six feet and against the doors and windows, preventing ingress and egress, and the work having been so carelessly done as to cause water to flow through the house, the city is liable to the owner for the injuries sustained.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Unprecedented

Have been my sales since the adoption of the special cut-price system for CASH buyers. Old fogism and success combined is a thing of the past. The wants of the people must be met, both as to prices and quality of goods. My stock has no equal in the city—always full, new and clean, and as to low prices, I have no competitor. I hold no goods over. I put them at prices that make them go. Just take a look:

M'GARVEY VS. CAKE.

I have hitherto pointed out only this author's want of knowledge of the subject on which he writes. This will still be conspicuous as we proceed, but it will appear incidentally, while his various attacks on the Bible will be the leading themes. As the first of these I will call attention to what he says about contradictions in the Scriptures.

Mr. Cake sometimes indulges in flights of eloquence such as are quite rare in writings of a critical character. For example, he introduces what we are now about to review with this dazzling passage:

"To settle forever in the minds of those who are not blinded by theory—who have not exalted their theory above the facts—a few examples will be enough to let the wind out of this inerrant balloon and whip to a frazzle this web of infallibility."

His first example of contradiction is the well-known fact that in 2. Samuel xxiv.1, it is said that the Lord moved David to number Israel, while in 2. Chronicles xxi. 1, Satan is said to have done it. On this Mr. Cake remarks: "Both statements cannot be true, unless the Lord and Satan are one and the same." I wonder if the man has lived this long without learning that some things done by Satan are also done by the Lord, Satan doing part and the Lord doing part. How about the crucifixion of Jesus? Will somebody have to inform the gentleman that God had a hand in that transaction, and Satan also, and that but for the part taken by each the event would not have transpired? I think I know a modern instance of the same thing. I am sure that Satan instigated Mr. Cake to talk these talks, and then to publish them; and it is my opinion that the Lord, knowing that he had humbugged some of the people of Maysville long enough, moved him to do the same thing, in order that his ignorance and skepticism might be exposed.

Next, we have the startling instance, that God did tempt Abraham, according to Genesis, yet according to James he tempts no man. Again I wonder if he has lived so long without learning that the word tempt in the Bible means to try, and that the trial may be for a good purpose as well as for an evil one.

Next, Elijah is said to have gone by a whirlwind into heaven, yet Jesus says, "No man has ascended into heaven." Who but Mr. Cake does not know that the word heaven is often used in the Old Testament for the visible heavens, and that whirlwinds cannot blow men into the heaven of which Jesus speaks? Men had gone into the disembodied state before Jesus spoke, as Elijah doubtless did; but not into heaven, the final abode of the saints.

Next, our critic cites the command in Numbers to offer sacrifices, and claims that it is contradicted by Micah's declaration to the Jews of his day that the Lord would not be pleased with thousands of rams, or ten thousands of rivers of oil. There is nothing surprising in this. Read the rest of the chapter (Micah vi) and six verses of the next chapter describing the almost unspeakable wickedness of the people, and you will see at once why God desired no sacrifices at their hands. If a church were to become as wicked now, all the prayers that its members could offer would only bring upon them, as Jesus said of the Scribes and Pharisees, "greater damnation." And this is a contradiction, "which lets the wind out of this inerrant balloon, and whips to a frazzle this web of infallibility."

Our frazzler of webs and burster of balloons next turns to the New Testament, and the first contradiction he specifies there, is one between Luke and Matthew as to when Jesus was taken by Joseph to Nazareth. Because Luke says the family went to Nazareth after the service in the temple, and Matthew says they went to Egypt and then to Nazareth, there is a contradiction, as if they could not have done both. If I were to say that Mr. Cake, after delivering those half-hour talks, took a boat and went to Cincinnati; and another man were to say that after delivering those talks, Mr. Cake went up to Ashland, and on returning he took a boat and went to Cincinnati, I suppose Cake would say that this is a contradiction; but he would be the only man in Maysville to say so. Everybody else would know better.

We are told in this connection, that "we have irreconcilable difficulties growing out of the genealogies given by Matthew and Luke." I venture to say that we have no such thing. If he shall attempt to point out any, he will show his ignorance again.

The next specification lets the wind out of Mr. Cake's balloon as completely as anything we have yet mentioned. I quote him in full:

Mark represents Jesus as going to the wilderness immediately after his baptism and remaining there forty days. When we turn to John he tells us that on the third day after his baptism, Jesus is in Cana of Galilee at a wedding.

Here it is not Mark against John, but John against Cake. The latter commits the unaccountable blunder of making John say what he never dreamed of saying. Let any child in Maysville ten years old, read from John i. 29 to ii. 1, 2, with the question before it, whether John says Jesus was at Cana the third day after his baptism, and you will see how reliable a writer Mr. Cake is.

The last contradiction which he charges against the New Testament is almost as bright a specimen as the one just disposed of. As it is compactly stated I copy it in full:

Paul tells us (1 Cor. xv. 5) that Jesus was seen of the twelve after his resurrection—doubtless meaning the twelve apostles—but there were not twelve apostles to see him; there were but eleven. Judas was dead and Matthias was not elected till after Christ's ascension.

If he was sharp enough to notice that there were not twelve apostles when Paul wrote this epistle, and that all these twelve saw Jesus after his resurrection? He should have known that Matthias was selected because he had been with the apostles from the time of John's baptism till the ascension of Jesus, and he could be a witness with them of the resurrection. Acts i. 21, 22.

Mr. Cake's fine success in exposing the contradictions in the Scriptures, seems to have exhilarated him, and led him at the close of the paragraph from which I have last quoted, to indulge in an other burst of his peculiar eloquence. He denounces the claim of infallibility and inerrancy as,

A dogma unsupported by one single fact: a wild and incoherent guess made to frighten children and fool the credulous, but rapidly passing into innocuous desuetude to all who are emancipated from priest-craft and who love truth and reality vastly more than fallacious argument, sophistical reasoning and sectarian balderdash.

Mr. Cake is not only eloquent after this fashion, but sometimes, even in these critical essays where you would least expect it, he becomes pathetic. He is a benevolent man, exceedingly anxious to keep the children from being frightened, and the credulous from being fooled, by this "wild and incoherent guess" (not a wildcat, mind you, but a wild guess); and I can imagine the tender-hearted sisters putting their handkerchiefs to their faces when he concluded the next division of his sixth "talk" with the following touch of pathos:

A book that is inerrant must be free from error; it must be accurate in everything. It not, where is its infallibility? It has gone where the woodbine twineth and the whangdoodle mourneth for her first born—ah!

How rare it is to hear such eloquence in the pulpit! J. W. M'GARVEY. Lexington, Ky.

MRS. AMANDA B. WARD.

A Good Woman Called to Her Reward Her Death at Washington This Morning

Mrs. Amanda B. Ward died this morning at 4 o'clock, after an illness of several weeks. She had been a sufferer from asthma a long time, and two weeks ago was stricken with an attack of the grip.

Deceased was seventy-six years of age. Her maiden name was Rankins and she was born and raised at Augusta. She leaves but one child, Mrs. John B. Holton. Mrs. Ward was a devout christian woman who was loved and esteemed wherever known.

The funeral will occur next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residence. All friends of the family are invited.

PHILADELPHIA TRAGEDY.

John A. Brown Shoots His Wife and Then Kills Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30.—John A. Brown, aged 30 years, employed by James A. Tidcott of 108 and 110 Franklin street, New York city, shot his wife, Mrs. E. B. Brown, aged 24 years, yesterday afternoon and then committed suicide. Mrs. Brown will recover.

Brown, who has not been living with his wife for some time past, came here from New York yesterday, and called at the home of her father, where the young wife has been living. Mrs. Brown was upstairs at the time, and, being informed that her husband wished to see her started down the front stairs. When about half way down her husband, who had remained standing in the hallway, suddenly drew a revolver and commenced firing at his wife. One shot struck her in the back of the head.

Brown then coolly walked into the parlor, placed the revolver behind his right ear, and fired a bullet into his brain, dying almost instantly. The woman was taken to University hospital, where her injury was pronounced not dangerous. Brown's body was taken to the police station.

New National Banks.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The comptroller of the currency has given authority for the organization of the First National bank of Columbiana, O., and the City National bank of Marlin, Tex. The comptroller has authorized the Harris National bank of Terrell, Tex., to begin business with a capital of $100,000.

Case That Puzzled Physicians.

NEW YORK, March 30.—Thomas Nevins, the Brooklyn dry goods merchant, whose case so strongly interested physicians, died in the Seney hospital Wednesday. He is the man from whose back, near the hips, was taken the embryonic body of a male infant.

The Small-pox Scare.

No cases of small-pox have yet developed in this city, notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

Charles Travis, the patient on Mr. John B. Peters' farm near Bernard, was reported dead this morning, but this was probably simply a rumor. One of Travis' children was thought to be taking the disease yesterday.

A family named Bogie living on Captain Davis' farm near Lewisburg were at the Travis home when the latter was first taken sick, and a close watch will be kept on them until all danger is past.

Increased Their Taxes.

IN MEMORIAM.

"Not a day but sees some sorrow—
Sees some precious good decay;
Something that our poor hearts cherished
From their yearning pass away."

The truth embodied in the above lines has been recently verified in the case of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas, who mourn the early death of their only child, Pearl, a fair, bright girl of fourteen, who passed away on the 22nd instant at 2:25 a. m. Her disease was consumption which the poets call the death of the predestined. In reading the particulars of her last hours one is reminded of the fair young girl who is the subject of one of Tennyson's touching poems; for, "All in the wild March morning she heard the angels call. It was when the moon was setting and the dark was over all—in the wild March morning she heard them call her soul—and up the valley came a swell of music on the wind—a music that only she could hear; but the sorrowing watchers saw a radiance on her face when she spoke of Heaven."

Her last words will live forever in the hearts of her bereaved parents: "I love you papa and mamma; do not grieve for me; you ought to rejoice that my sufferings are over; be good and come to me; I will be watching for you." Almost her last words were, "I always thought it would be so hard to die, but it is not." Then she added, "music! music! music! I am nearly there now: 'I see Heaven'—and with hardly a struggle her soul passed away. 'To live within the light of God where the weary are at rest.'" that is the date of a letter from Mr. JAS. E. BROWN, 524 Pacific Ave., Dallas, Tex.—He lost his strength from overwork, like so many others, and took Brown's Iron Bitters.

He says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best medicine I have ever taken. I had been suffering for a year from extreme weakness, caused by overwork, and two bottles renewed my strength entirely. I am glad to say so."

Not a miracle, but just another cure brought about by Brown's Iron Bitters. Do you take it?
